Oral Health Month

Did you know that brushing and flossing for infants should start as soon as the first baby tooth erupts? Yes! The most common question we get asked by parents is; "what age should I start brushing my child's teeth?" Our team of hygienists and dentists are always recommending a first dental appointment by age 1 as well! The key to a lifetime of good oral health, is early adoption of good oral hygiene routines! This includes their biannual appointments and follow ups! Find more information on children's oral hygiene here: <https://www.cdc.gov/oralhealth/basics/childrens-oral-health/index.html>
